I created this lantern for my big brother, my good friend, with whom I've shared many delicious evenings over the years. Delicious, because he's an excellent cook, but also because spending time in his home is so enjoyable.

This is the small battery-operated candle that he hoped could be placed inside a beautiful piece of stained-glass.

Thank you to my friends,
Éric and Carmen, for inspiring me!

Intermediate level booklets are aimed at artisans who have already mastered basic stained-glass techniques. They do not include explanations of glass cutting, using the glass grinder, or the application of copper foil. It is also assumed that you have all the tools necessary for embarking on a stained-glass project.
